

If you're not an NSA member, come and see what you're missing out on!

Would you like to be one of the four lucky winners this year to receive a IAE mechanical lamb weigh crate worth over £550 each? All you need to do is sign up to become a member of NSA today to be in with the chance of getting your hands on this fantastic prize.

Already an NSA member? While new members are automatically entered into the prize draw, as an existing member you can gain an entry every time you recommend a family member, friend or neighbour to sign up as a new NSA member. With no limit to the number of entries you can earn, and four prize draws spaced through the year, the sooner you can recommend people the higher your chances are of winning.

Why be an NSA member? NSA is a UK-wide organisation working tirelessly to provide a voice for the sheep sector. The organisation represents all types of sheep farming, from uplands to lowland systems, pedigree and commercial enterprises and large to small flocks. NSA operates a regional structure, meaning members from anywhere in the UK can get in touch on any matter affecting them, safe in the knowledge that their regional committee will share opinions with national and devolved committees and are there to offer support - your voice matters. Each and every. With the interests of sheep farmers at the heart of everything NSA does, your membership goes a long way in providing this organisation with a stronger mandate to represent the interests of sheep farmers and the sheep industry at Government level, while helping NSA fund its activity on behalf of its members. If you are a sheep farmer or interested in the sheep industry, join NSA today to get your hands on practical support and back NSAs work in providing a voice for the sheep industry.
